Lincoln Funeral 150th Commemoration

April 24, 2015

11:00 A.M. and 1:00 P.M.

Join the National Park Service at Federal Hall National Memorial at 11:00 A.M. and 1:00 P.M. on April 24, 2015 for a special program commemorating the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's Funeral.

In 2011, the National Park Service commemorated the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's inaugural journey to Washington, D.C., with first-person interpretive programs of Abraham Lincoln in all of the major cities Lincoln visited as he made his way to be sworn in as President.

This year, the National Park Service will commemorate the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's Funeral Procession with programs in each of the major cities that held a funeral for Lincoln from Washington, D.C. to Springfield, Ill., on the day the funerals were held. Those attending the program will be greeted and given an introduction by a National Park Service Ranger, which followed by a one-hour presentation by an accomplished actor portraying Lincoln. The presentation will focus on Lincoln's vision for America as he expressed it during his life, his vision of moving the nation from civil war to civil rights.
